Membership

When you join SWE you become a part of an elite group of women engineers and technologists. Running just as deep as the camaraderie we share, are the opportunities and resources that come along with membership. SWE is the Society for women who want to advance the field of engineering and excel professionally. If you are not a member yet, you don't want to miss out on this incredibly rewarding opportunity. Join SWE today!

Already a SWE member? Visit SWE's Online Member Services Center to manage all of your member activity, including membership renewal, address and profile updates. The Center is also the place to access the SWE Online Directory, upgrade your membership, enter discussion forums and much more!
